Goodbye winter, hello spring!!!

We will be welcoming the arrival of spring with an outing organized by the parents' committee...

At the end of March, you are invited to gather at Little Cataraqui Conservation Area to experience a lovely family activity: Maple Madness...Looking forward to seeing you there!!!!

Thursday, March 5, 2015, Little Ray's Reptile Zoo visited and introduced us to all kinds of extraordinary animals: iguana, snake, tarantula, turtle...

We took pleasure in discovering, observing, and touching all these species each one more amazing than the other. Thank you once again to the parents' committee for this extraordinary experience!

Health Notices

- Please note that our school allows NUTS. All types of nuts (peanuts, tree nuts, seeds, etc...) are permitted and may sometimes be used as an ingredient for snacks and meals.

Among the preschoolers...

It's winter! All of the children have been taking great pleasure in rediscovering the joys of games in the snow. : sledding, building snowmen, and rolling on the big white carpet that has covered our yard.

We also would like to introduce Holly who comes to visit us every Friday afternoon to make music and songs, crafts and dance. Holly is a musician and she shows us different instruments: flute, violin and various percussion instruments. Thank you to her for the good times spent together!

“Education is a natural process carried out by the human individual, and is acquired not by listening to words, but by experiences in the environment.”

Reminders...

We ask you to provide the necessary clothing for your children and to ensure that it is all labeled.

Among the toddlers...

Six months into the school year, we are getting better and better at doing things for ourselves in the toddler class.

Every day we train to dress and undress alone.

In class, we work in a calm and serene environment.

In the garden, we like to play in the snow and have toboggan races.

Currently, we are discovering animals:

- We are seeing their appearance in images
- We are touching their shape thanks to figurines
- We listening to their cries with the "audio safari"
- And we speak of them in songs

Soon we will be preparing for Easter and the arrival spring!
